Tasting Notes: Sweet black fruits aromas followed by notes of leather, red rose petals, and wet stones. Focused on the palate with flavors of dark and juicy berries, cassis, peppercorns, and red cherry. Complex minerality, crunchy tannins, and a lifting acidity at the finish.

Winemaker Notes: The 2025 growing season was steady and balanced, making for an easy harvest. The weather was neither too hot nor too cold, allowing the vines to grow at a comfortable pace. Bud break happened in mid-spring, and the season stayed mostly dry, which helped the vines stay healthy. As harvest approached, the weather remained steady making it a straightforward year with good conditions for growing.
