Tasting Notes: Bright aromas of red currants, ruby red grapefruit, wet stones, and yellow rose. Mineral driven, with plentiful red cherries, plums, white tea, and tart peach. The palate is tense and exotic, with a mouthwatering, juicy finish.

Winemaker Notes: The 2025 growing season was steady and balanced, making for an easy harvest. The weather was neither too hot nor too cold, allowing the vines to grow at a comfortable pace. Bud break happened in mid-spring, and the season stayed mostly dry, which helped the vines stay healthy. As harvest approached, the weather remained steady making it a straightforward year with good conditions for growing.
