Tasting Notes: Vibrant aromas of white peach, orange blossom, Asian pear, and slate. A lovely texture on the palate leads to flavors of pear tart, satsuma, vanilla bean, and a balanced, mineral finish.

Winemaker Notes: The 2025 growing season was steady and balanced, making for an easy harvest. The weather was neither too hot nor too cold, allowing the vines to grow at a comfortable pace. Bud break happened in mid-spring, and the season stayed mostly dry, which helped the vines stay healthy. As harvest approached, the weather remained steady making it a straightforward year with good conditions for growing.
